

Share of predictive weight (mean |SHAP value|) per feature, Random Forest fit separately on each population's own decisions

Same 5 mechanical features fit on both sides (round ≥ 2 decisions only); shares are normalized per row so they sum to 100%.
This describes what a classifier leans on to reproduce each population's choices -- not a causal or mechanistic claim.